In a world of established order and stability, people no longer create families, get divorced or fight. There is no more searching for creativity and as a result a disappointment.

Each character is being created perfectly, knowing its purpose and endowed with the necessary skills. Each failure is subject to correction or a recycle. Once upon a time this procedure interrupted with ... aliens?

Future people? Nature itself?

Any system strives for a balance, entropy, so restriction of the freedom of will one day should be violated.

An interactive performance involves an audience in the act

A photograph of three individuals in futuristic, neon-lit costumes performing on a stage. The costumes feature glowing headpieces, chest pieces, and leg pieces. The lighting is primarily blue and purple, creating a vibrant, high-tech atmosphere. The individuals are captured in dynamic, dance-like poses. A central white box with the text 'MORE PHOTOS' is overlaid on the image.
